12,	An employee of the Rosslau cooperative stores said that the Soviet kommandatura in Zerbst requisitioned the former industrial harbor and the warehouses of the German Armed Forces on the Elbe River on 26 June 1950. The bakery, the warehouses and the administration building used by German offices had to be evacuated by 1 July 1950. Five six-story warehouses, each about 40 x 15 meters, three storage buildings, each about 20 x 8 x 6 meters, and an administration building were in that area. No Soviets had moved in by 1 July 1950.
13.	All three engineer units, commanded by lieutenant colonels, were back 50X1-HUM in their barracks by 25 June 1950.
14.	An engineer general, an engineer colonel and several lieutenant colonels were again seen in the barracks. (9)
15.	It was said that the engineer general was also in command of other engineer units in rotsdam. The engineer units allegedly did not belong to the tank division. (9)
